Create Your Own Most BORING BOOK EVER

Take a stack of five or six sheets of paper and fold them in half.
With the help of an adult, staple along the crease of the papers to create a booklet.

On each page, write one sentence about something boring you did today.
Once you've written a sentence on each page, go back and add pictures of the most un-boring things you can think of to turn a boring day into an adventure!
